

POLICY STATEMENT(S):

1. Multidose injectables must remain in the physician's office and never be returned to the pharmacy once they have been distributed to the physician's office.
2. The preferred method of handling the prescription is to sell the multidose vial to the physician's office. The physician's office can then charge each patient for an individual injection.